Hand Luggage

By Page, P. K.

Erin, Ontario, Canada: Porcupine's Quill, 2006. Soft cover. Book Condition: New. 1st Edition. Original printed wraps. 96 pp. Octavo. `Riffing on memory: that is PK Page's method in Hand Luggage, a wonderful long poem nobody else could have written, meaning the original form as well as the autobiographical content. Some events are told out of chronological sequence; some minor characters -- a marmoset is one -- admittedly claim disproportionate space. The reader is relieved of much that a conventional autobiography would plod through. Hand Luggage carries a plentitude of penetrating observations and probing questions arising from richly varied cultural experience frankly and lovingly examined. It is a progression of incandescent moments caught in a poetic voice both assured and unassuming. `Thank God for my eye, my insatiable eye,' says PK Page, `it has seen me through much.' That sharp eye, always searching after vision, sees a reader through this book too, this surprising verse memoir of a `borderland being' deeply pondering her life in society and in art.' -- Stan Dragland Printed offset by Tim Inkster on the Heidelberg KORD at the printing office of the Porcupine's Quill in the Village of Erin, Wellington County, Ontario, Canada. Smyth sewn into...
